LARKSPUR • August 28
photography by Adi Nevo Photographs
at The Tavern at Lark Creek

the reception décor

Using artichokes as table card holders was a subtle organic touch.

the bridal bouquet

For a just-picked look, Kathryn carried a mix of wildflowers and local tulips, orchids and berries.

the escort cards

The luggage tag escort cards, displayed in an old suitcase, directed guests to their tables, named after airports the couple had flown into together.

THE BRIDE Kathryn Frydenlund Keller, 31, a second-year law student at the University of California, Hastings

THE GROOM Mark Todd Kriozere, 37, an implementation manager at Charles River Development

HOW THEY MET On Nerve.com

HOW LONG ENGAGED 8 months

THEIR WEDDING STYLE Kathryn and Mark really wanted to get married in a forest, which wasn't exactly practical, so they looked for a venue with a natural vibe. The Tavern, with a patio surrounded by redwoods, turned out to be the answer. As for colors, they used blue here and there, but tried not to be too "matchy-matchy." —JD

the couple Kathryn's simple gown and Mark's charcoal-gray suit fit their California semi-casual vibe.

the reception
Rustic centerpieces mixed with artichokes and berries were set into tree-trunk-like vessels and placed down the tables.

the boutonnieres
The groom and guys wore boutonnieres of berries and thistle accented with bark.

the ceremony décor
Natural-looking bouquets of wildflowers and leaves decorated the chairs along the ceremony aisle.
